"Reseña del editor Robinson Crusoe is not content with his life in England. He is bored and wants to see more of the world. His curiosity convinces him to leave his homeland and travel abroad. Without telling his parents, young Robinson sets off on a voyage of discovery. During the years that follow he learns much, not just about the world, but about himself as well. Following disaster at sea on more than one occasion, Robinson toys with the idea of settling down. However, his adventurous character gets the better of him and he boards ship once again. This time, though, a calamitous shipwreck wipes out the whole of the crew and leaves Crusoe alone on a seemingly deserted island. How is it possible for one man to survive in such a situation? Will he manage to leave or be forced to remain on the island? Biografía del autor Daniel Defoe (1659-1731) was an English writer, journalist and pamphleteer, who gained enduring fame for his novel Robinson Crusoe, which was published in 1719. He is notable for being one of the earliest proponents of the novel as he helped to popularise the form in Britain. He wrote more than 500 books, pamphlets and journals on various topics."

Robinson Crusoe chapter i start in life i was born in the year 1632 in the city of York of a good family though not of that country my father being a for eigner of Bremen who settled first at Hull he got a good estate by merchandise and leaving off his trade lived af terwards at York from whence he had married my mother

Robinson Crusoe's father counseled him to seek the middle way to be content with a settled and steady way of life but Crusoe's restless nature lands him in one misadventure after another Defoe moralizes a bit on his hero's foibles and all in all it makes for a great listen well read by Mark Smith.
